24/7 support and well-being in our Boarding family

Joining our Boarding school means becoming part of our extended family, where your child's well-being is our top priority. Our Boarding team is deeply familiar with each student, tailoring their support to foster independence and confidence. Our House Parents, carefully selected for their expertise in teenage care, are exclusively dedicated to this essential role. They are mentors and counsellors, providing personalised support for emotional, academic, and practical matters.

We prioritise open communication with parents and guardians, offering tools like our Parent App and house blogs to keep you well-informed and engaged with the activities in our Boarding houses.

Additionally, our 'Well-being Bulletin' complements academic updates by offering insights into your child's emotional balance, exercise routines, motivation, and overall happiness.

my House Parents
inspire me the most.
They always take care
of me and encourage
